PROGRAM OVERVIEW
The School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences (SHRS) is a School in The Ohio State University’s College of Medicine. The School is nationally recognized as a leader in practice-based health care education. The Health Sciences program is intended for students interested in continuing their education in a graduate field in health care, pursuing an entry level position in health care, continuance of an earned associates, and pursuit of their CHES Certification. Students interested in graduate school pursue degrees in areas such as Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Medicine, Public Health, Hospital/Health Services Administration, Nursing, Veterinary Medicine, and/or another graduate program of their choice upon graduation. The Health Sciences program also offers the opportunity for students to enter the health care field in various community education and patient center management positions.

It is strongly recommended that prospective students schedule an appointment with their pre-HRS advisor. If you are not a pre-HRS student, you must complete an online major information session prior to meeting with a pre-HRS advisor. Prospective students such as baccalaureate degree-holders, transfer, international, or those that have time commitment issues such as student athletes and band members are strongly encouraged to meet with a pre-HRS advisor to discuss special circumstances which may apply.
