Health Sciences

The School of Health and Rehabilitation Sciences (SHRS) is a School in The Ohio State University College of Medicine. The School is nationally recognized as a leader in practice-based health care education. For more than five decades, the School has prepared students to achieve personal and professional excellence, as they pursue an exciting career in healthcare.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Health sciences program is intended for students interested in continuing their education in a graduate field in health care or in pursuing an entry level job in health care. Students interested in graduate school pursue degrees in areas such as Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Medicine, Public Health, Hospital/Health Services Administration, Dentistry, Optometry, Nursing, Veterinary Medicine, Medical Dietetics and/or another graduate program of their choice upon graduation. The Health Sciences program also offers the opportunity for students to enter the health care field in various community education and patient center management positions. Students receive an introduction to the organization and delivery of healthcare as well as general education. The program provides the foundation of coursework for students to complete the Certified Health Education Specialist exam and can also be used for students to complete their bachelor's degree after achieving an associate's degree in a related health care field.
